W. J. KANSTRICKEN WHILE BATHING

Rescued From Surf, He Dies Three Hours Later in Hotel.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Hampton, Va., August 27.—Stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage while bathing at Buckroe Beach to-day, Warner J. Kanstricken, treasurer of the Citizens' Railway and Electric Company and the Newport News Gas Company, died in the Buckroe Beach Hotel three hours later. Mr. Kanstricken had been enjoying a surf bath for several hours when other bathers saw him fall from the float into the water. He was rescued with great difficulty and pulled ashore on the big float. The water was rough owing to the storm along the coast, and the attending physicians called in later gave the cause of the sudden attack as a result of over-exertion. Mr. Kanstricken was hurriedly removed to the hotel, where three physicians did all in their power to revive him, but he remained unconscious until death claimed him.

Mr. Kanstricken was one of the leading business men in Newport News and was widely known in railway circles. He was about forty-four years old. Mr. Kanstricken to the beach from his home in Newport News early this morning to take a swim. He is survived by his wife and four small children.

home of his brother, John S. B. Page, near Rippon, W. Va. Three sisters and his brother survive.

A number of new schoolhouses, built according to the sanitary specifications drawn up by the State Board of Education, will be ready for occupancy in Frederick county when the fall session begins about the first of October. Concrete blocks are being used in construction of the schools, and an effort is being made to buy an old Presbyterian church building near Hiderfield and convert it into a graded school.

Rev. Zed H. Copp, son of John E. Copp, of Kernstown, this county, who has been conspicuous in moral reform work in Washington for a number of years, has resigned as associate pastor of Bethany Presbyterian Chapel, and will now set about to organize a new church with a city-wide parish and a nation-wide interest.

Miss Leah M. Croft, who has been ill of paralysis over eight years, died last week at her home near Winchester at an advanced age. She was the first of a family of nine children to pass away. She was a native of York, Pa., but had spent most of her life here. One brother and seven sisters survive.

The Disciples of Christ in the Virginia Valley, who have been in session at Galilee Church, near White Hall, for several days, have adjourned to meet next year at Walnut Springs.

Arrangements have been made by a number of prominent business men of Strasburg to reopen the plant of the Strasburg Manufacturing Company, which went into the hands of a receiver about a year ago on account of the inability of the managers to collect accounts from New York contractors who had several strikes on their hands.

DIFFICULT FOR LOCOMOTIVES TO GET SUPPLY OF WATER

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Spencer, N. C., August 27.—The extreme drought is having its effect upon the railroads, and in many places it is difficult for locomotives to get sufficient water. The Yadkin River, which ordinarily is one of the largest streams in North Carolina, is showing signs of weakness at Spencer, where several hundred engines take water daily.

The Southern Railway has installed two mammoth rotary pumps, called two mammoth rotary pumps, with a capacity of throwing 40,000 gallons of water each per hour. Additional in-take lines have been placed and the facilities for taking water greatly increased. The river, however, has gotten so low that it was found necessary to dredge out a small channel to bring the water to the suction pipes. It is stated that for the purpose of increasing the flow of water near the pipes and in order to guard against a possible shutting off of the entire water supply, which is perhaps one of the best on its system, the Southern Railway will at once construct a rock dam across the river, throwing the last drainage of the stream into the pipe. This measure has never been resorted to in the past.

A large number of students of the Catholic University of Washington have been spending the past week in the Virginia Valley, touring the battlefields and other points of historical interest. They visited all the forts and "stone walls" between the mountains, in Winchester, and for Luray, expecting to go bear hunting in the mountains.

Ven Meter Hack, of Bartonville, this county, who was injured last Monday night in an automobile crash in Baltimore, Md., is recovering from his injuries at the home of his uncle, near Baltimore. In a letter received by young Hack's mother, he denies all the published reports that he was drinking and that he was drinking a great deal during the day. He says that he had several days together, but that most of their time was spent at the home of a relative, Mrs. Morrison, and making final arrangements for the contemplated trip of Home Hack, Jr., to Europe.

Sudcliffe N. Widdup, who is alleged to have victimized many people of Washington and Frederick counties, Md., in connection with the sale of stock in the National Stone and Brick Company, and who was recently indicted in Washington and taken to the scene of his former activities for trial, Widdup owns some property in Winchester, and as soon as creditors learned that he was a realty holder here they employed lawyers to attach the property.

Henry E. Fox, an attorney, and Miss Elizabeth McCall, both of Harrisburg, Pa., were members of a party of friends which attended the Berryville horse show last week, and before returning home they decided to get married in Winchester. The ceremony accordingly was performed by Rev. James H. Graham, D. D., pastor emeritus of the Presbyterian Church in Winchester.

Mrs. Fannie F. Robinson, wife of S. S. Robinson, died at her home here last Monday, aged forty-nine years. This is the first time in many years that a person of her age has died of that disease in this city.

Mrs. Louis Henry Helman, daughter of the late George R. Henry, a Winchester newspaper man, and the wife of Dr. Jesse Helman, of Syracuse, N. Y., has been taken to Saranac Lake, Ill. of tuberculosis. Mrs. Helman was on the stage for a number of years, starring as "Eal Skinner." She married her manager, a man named King, and after divorcing him she became the wife of Eberhard Van Alstyne, the noted composer of music, from whom she also was divorced.

David Arch Dickson, of Bristol, and Miss Mary Belle Stouffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel K. Stouffer, formerly of this city, but now of Hemlock, N. C., were married here several days ago at the home of Thomas P. Gray, a brother of Rev. C. D. Taylor, pastor of Market Street Methodist Episcopal Church. They left to spend their honeymoon in the North.

W. A. Higgs, owner of the Jefferson Copperage Company plant, who was burned down last Saturday night at about 8:00, with interest from a party of $20,000, is arranging to rebuild at once.

Dr. William A. Swinley, a well-known Winchester physician, has sued the Capital Traction Company of Washington, for $20,000 damages. He had been to Richmond on professional business last December, and was returning home by way of Washington. He was alighting from a street car late at night, and claims the car was negligently set in motion, throwing him to the ground and inflicting permanent injuries to his hip and other parts of his body.

U. M. Pace, member of an old Fauquier county family, who ran away from home when a lad in knee breeches and joined the Mosby command in the Confederate Army, died several days ago, aged sixty-seven years, at the home of his brother, John S. B. Page, near Rippon, W. Va. Three sisters and his brother survive.
